NORWOOD PARK HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO HEAR ABOUT

“HAUNTS OF THE WHITE CITY: GHOST STORIES FROM THE WORLD’S FAIR,”

ON SEPT. 18

The 1893 World’s Columbian Exposition offered the arts, a variety of cultures and entertainment along with unexpected painful events that can be sensed today by those who have the ability to connect with the spirits of decades earlier. To learn more about paranormal activity at or near this famous Chicago event, be sure to attend the program offered by the Norwood Park Historical Society on Sept. 18. “Haunts of the White City: Ghost Stories from the World’s Fair,” will be presented by noted author and parapsychologist Ursula Bielski. The program will begin at 7 p.m., at the historic Noble-Seymour-Crippen House (Chicago’s oldest—1833), 5624 N. Newark Ave. in Chicago. A question-and-answer session will follow.

Bielski is one of the premier authorities on haunted places and paranormal activity in the Chicago area. She has authored twelve books and appeared on numerous TV and radio programs, in addition to having a degree in history from Benedictine University and a Master’s degree in American cultural and intellectual history from Northeastern Illinois University.

For those who cannot attend the meeting, the program will be live streamed and later available on the NPHS members' page. All programs are free and open to the public.

Tours of Chicago's oldest house are available following the program.

Attendees are also encouraged to visit the organization's Museum Store near the home's front entrance, which features NPHS collectibles, maps, limited edition art works related to Norwood Park, books by local authors, and other interesting items.

Refreshments will be available. For more information, call the Norwood Park Historical Society, at (773) 631-4633 or email them at admin@norwoodparkhistoricalsociety.org.
